About

I am a computer enthusiast, a science lover, a hard worker, and a responsible person. I work well in groups as well as solo. Some of my strong traits include making strong connections, courage, perseverance, time management, and not compromising on my priorities. Successful under difficult and demanding conditions, offering decisive teamwork. Recognized for my self-discipline, creativity, adhering to my words, academic excellence, and geekiness. I prefer to utilize my free time to indulge my curiosity and think deeply about everything. I am looking for a place to develop challenge myself and develop new skills.
